Approved For Release 2003/12/02 : CIA-RDP75-00001R000300150022-5

STAT

pioneer in radio and former aged the NBC station in San executive with the National Francisco from 1942 to 1950, Broadcasting Co., died yesterday at his home in Palo Alto, Calif. He suffered a, stroke Calif. He suffered a stroke several months ago:

He served here with the Central Intelligence Agency from 1953 until last April, when he retired to California.

A native of Ilion, N. Y., Mr. Elwood attended Amherst College and Harvard and joined the General Electric Co. in 1917. He went to San Francisco in 1925 to set up radio communication facilities to the Orient for the Radio Corporation of America.

He later became first vice

John W. Elwood, 64, a president of NBC and man-